John Inslu and Charles Le Clerc were tried for an assault and battery on John Gallagher, of 342 Monroe street, on the 3d April last. He said the former struck him a violent blow on the mouth while the latter aided and abetted by holding his hands, &c.

The Jury found them not guilty.

John M. Crovin was tried for retaining stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen, viz: 6 bars of Swedish iron, 11 to 12 inches

It was proved by Patrick Noonan, who had charge of the iron, that the iron was taken from under the gates, and that the tracks of persons were traced in the snow to the door of the shop of Crovin, 102 Washington street, and a search having been made without a warrant, by officer Denniston, accompanied by Mr. Noonan, who found in a rear room, under bags of rags, 6 hars of the Swedish iron, with the marks in white paint, put on by Camp bell in Bowman and Johnson's yard, still on them; as also two new pieces of the pig iron. It was proved by a boy named Jas. Edward Johnson, one of the four who stole the pig iron, that he seld it to the prisoner for half a cent a pound, it being worth $30 at ton at wholesale. Crovin asked the boy where he got the iron and he said "Out here," pointing toward Bowman & Johnson to the property of the property o

In the defence it was found that prisoner made no objection ward. In the defence it was found that prisoner made no objection to the searching of his premises, and when the iron was found, sold their if there was any more iron there of theirs to take it constitution. Have you breakfasted!"

The accused proved a good previous character for industry as a mason and general good conduct.

The Jary found the accused guilty.

He was found guilty at the last terts for a similar offence.

James Edward Johnson, the mulato boy, who with others stole the pig iron, then pleaded guilty to pent larceny and was sent; the House of Refuge.

James B. Gleatworth them appeared before the Court and entered into bail for his appearance to answer in $5,000, Mr. J. B. Coleman of the Astor House, and another gentleman, becoming his bail.

He then pleaded not gailty to the indictment and the case was set down for trial for Wednesslay the 19th inst.

The Jury were then discharged until Monday next.
In the case of William H. Allen of this city, indicted for obtaining 95 bales of Cotton from Messrs. William H. Roberts & Co. of Mebile, under false pretences. Messrs. Bosney and J. A. Morrill of Counsel for the accused, who had put in a demarrer

Police Office.—Breaking Lamps.—About midnight on Thursday evening. Watchman Roberts found a coterie of well dressed young men in Burling Slip, occupied in knocking over boxes and barrels, making a noise, and finally in throwing stones at the city lamps, one of which was broken. He arrested one of them, named William Blissett, and ledged him in the watchhouse, and yesterday he was fined by Justice Stevens $10 and costs for his wilful mischief, which he paid and was discharged. Stabbing.—William Bloggs, who was sometime since accused of keeping a disorderly house, yesterday morning, about three e'clock, when remonstrated with and rebuked by Watchman Roberts for his disorderly conduct, attacked the watchman with a knife, with which he gave him a very severe stab is the right thigh, which disabled Mr. Roberts, and caused him to be taken home and confised to his bed. Boggs was lodged in the watchhouse, and vesterday sent to prison.

Their Margaret McCann was holged in head.

John Farrell and another man, which Farrell snatched up and ran off with as fast as he could go. He was, however, arrested, and, being taken to the Police, was sent to prison.

Coroner's Office.—Suicide.—The Coroner, on Thursday night, held an inquest at the late residence of the deceased, No. 174 Broome st., on the body of Isaac Bonnallach, ages, 48, a native of England, by trade a shoemaker. From the evidence of the wife it appeared that the deceased for a considerable time had labored under depression of spirits and deep despondency, and had often declared that his own hand would terminate his life. On one occasion his wife had taken a quantity of poisen from his possession to prevent him from destroying himself. On Wednesday noon he went out a short time, and, returning at 2 o'clock, soon after took some tea and retired to bed. It was not very long before his wife heard and was alarmed by the noise of his hard breathing, and entering the apartment where he late, found him in an expiring condition. Dr. Clements, the family physician, was sent for, who came hat too late to render any beneficial aid. It was soon ascertained that the deceased had taken opium, which he had put into a phind and poured lauda and upon it, and some of the moistened opium was found in a phind in his pocket, to the bottom of which some of the drag ada his pocket, to the bottom of which some of the drug ad-He died at 10 o'clock on Wednesday night. The Coroner was also called to the house of John Rose in The Coroner was also called to the house of Jelin Rose in Barrow street, two doors from Hudson-street, on the bedy of Margaret, wife of the above, aged 40, a native of Ireland. The decased had been married for ten years, and had during that whole period indulged in intemperance. On Thursday morning he left home at half past 6 o'clock, and when he returned in the evening he found her dead. A bottle that had ram or brandy in it was found in her apartment, of which she had ardendy natitates, and a pledge ticket was found in her bosom. The verdet of the Jury was, that she died of intemperance.
